NEW CRISIS FACES HAIG AS HUNS SWEEP FORWARD

AMERICANS LAUDED BY SECRETARY OF WAR

Baker Arrived Safely This Morning In America From Visit to Battlefields

SAYS HE IS PROUD OF SAMMIES' RECORD

Goes Immediately to Washington to Take Up Important War Work

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Secretary of War Baker returned to this country from his inspection tour in France, landing this morning at an Atlantic port. Baker notified officials here by long distance telephone of his safe return.

HAS FEELING OF PRIDE IN ARMY

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 16.—"I have a feeling of pride and confidence in the American army and its achievements in France," Secretary of War Baker said here today, on his arrival from Europe.

"The things I have seen on the other side," he added, "would justify one in making many trips to France. We landed here this morning after a quiet and uneventful voyage."

Baker spoke highly of the morale of the French forces. He was abroad when the big German offensive started.

The secretary was accompanied by his aides, General Wm. Black, chief of engineers, and Col. M. L. Brett, and by his secretary, R. A. Hays. He went directly from the steamer to the railroad station and boarded a train for Washington.

Baker intimated that the American troops in France were very eager to get into the fighting. He said they don't want to see any Americans over there, unless they come with guns on their shoulders, ready to fight their bit.

The secretary occupied a compartment on the Washington train and looked in the best of health.

LOS ANGELES HALF OVER WITH 3RD LOAN

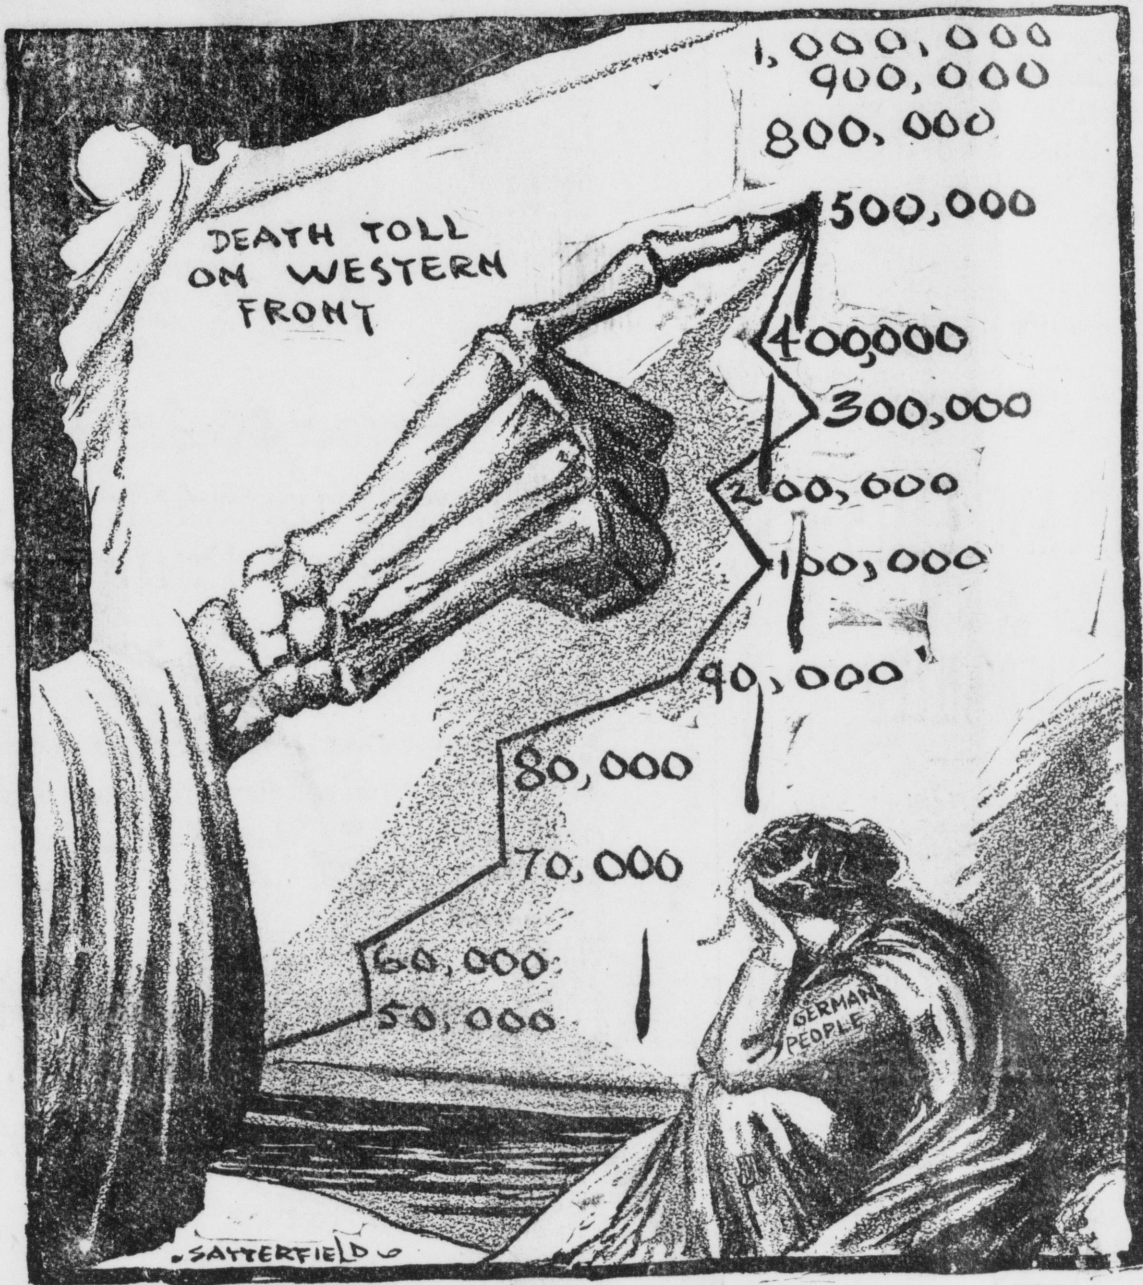

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Los Angeles' first week in the great Third Liberty Loan drive exceeded by several million dollars 50 per cent of its total quota. Figures made public today show that at the close of business Saturday the city had subscribed $18,618,000 toward a quota of $23,379,000. With this showing to work upon workers warned that the city would not have done its full duty unless the quota was doubled by May 4.

Japanese Officials Don't Accept War Preparations of Soviet Seriously

BY RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
TOKIO, April 16.—Japanese officials apparently do not take seriously the soviet's preparations to declare a state of war in Siberia. They say this action would not likely mean hostilities because the soviet are unable to maintain a state of siege in Siberia. The Japanese marines will not withdraw from Vladivostok until order is restored, and Japan will insist that her action is only a local agreement of the Allies, whose consuls explained to Vladivostok authorities that protection of life and property is all that is desired.

THE KAISER'S BAROMETER

ENEMY IS PREPARED TO WASTE A MILLION LIVES FOR VICTORY IN HIS GREAT WESTERN OFFENSIVE

U. S. Government Information on Aims of Kaiser

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, April 16.—Germany is prepared to waste more than 1,000,000 lives in the west front offensive, according to information here today. The socialist and militarist leaders are understood to have conferred before the drive began, reaching an understanding that the radicals would not interpose any objections so long as the casualties did not exceed the 1,500,000 mark. But beyond that, the socialists were not prepared to stand for the reckless use of "cannon fodder," it was said. The military leaders were understood to have pledged that they could achieve their purposes without incurring such casualties, though lately they have been inclined to warn Germany that all gains of terrain have been at a frightful cost.

Sure of Success
The nation was informed that the offensive would succeed and that the bloody dreams of the plunberbund would be realized. Behind these pledges lies the explanation of the sudden scrapping of peace talk, according to advices here.

Hindenburg and his officers were cocksure in their talk. The British army would be annihilated and Germany's path to a peace—with annexations—would be accomplished.

The government has positive information that "stalking everything" on the west front drive is no empty phrase with Germany.

The use of men in waves—mowed down as grain before the reaper—is one evidence of the Teuton program. The fact that Germany does not object is due, it is now believed, to a pre-offensive agreement and the German belief in the military-mad leaders' word that victory is ahead.

After Everything
Germany has shunted aside the reichstag resolution of "no annexations, no indemnities" quite openly now.

Zurich dispatches today said the pan-German organ, the Tagliche Rundschau, revealed the new stand. Count Hertling, the paper said,

British Sink Ten German Trawlers

LONDON, April 16.—Ten German trawlers were sunk by British warships in the Cattegat yesterday, the British admiralty announced today. "The Cattegat was swept Monday," the statement said. "Ten German trawlers were sunk by gunfire. Their crews were saved by British ships. There were no British casualties."

threatened the socialists that he would resign if that platform were followed.

Thereupon the majority factions accepted the imperial government plan, which includes:

Annexation of French territory. Incorporation of the Belgian coast of Flanders into Germany.

Payment of a large war indemnity by the western powers to Germany.

Incidentally, it appears that Germany is hoping to collect indemnity from America, and her leaders are doing all in their power to make the Boches believe America's part in the war will be meager.

Hertling is reported to have broken with Erzberger, the centrist leader.

COUNT CZERNIN IS GIVEN COMMAND OF AUSTRIAN BRIGADE

COPENHAGEN, April 16.—Count Czernin, who resigned as Austrian foreign minister, has received command of an Austrian brigade on the Italian front, it was learned here today.

There was a sharp conflict of opinions when Czernin conferred with Emperor Karl on Sunday morning, it is said. Later, the emperor received Count Tisza and Dr. Wekerle, the Hungarian premier.

Hindenburg has won his most important victory in the Flanders drive through the capture of Bailleul and the abandonment of Wulverghem.

As he drove his wedge westward between the Ypres-Comines and La Bassée canals, Bailleul became the key to Messines ridge and the Ypres salient on the north and to Hazebrouck on the west.

Bailleul is located midway between Armentieres and Hazebrouck, on a sharp bend in the

The Messines ridge, which is the strongest defensive position in all Flanders, runs westward from the village of Messines past Wulverghem to Kemmel, a distance of about three miles. It is about a mile and a half wide and on its eastern face runs northward to Wytshaete.

PASSING OF BILLION MARK IS ENCOURAGING

No Report From Big Minneapolis District Received Up to Noon

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Liberty loan subscriptions are passing the first billion dollars today.

Figures from eleven of the twelve federal reserve districts showed a total of $806,465,250 up to the close of business yesterday. No official reports have yet been received from the big Minneapolis district, where the campaign opened yesterday. Unofficial reports from there, together with today's work, however, will carry the roll of liberty dollars well over a billion, it is believed.

SAN FRANCISCO RAISES OVER HALF SUBSCRIPTION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Lieutenant Commander George Wickham Worley of the missing cyclotops lived in San Francisco fifteen years ago and his sister, Mrs. A. M. He entered the navy during the Spanish American war after several years of sea faring.

HUN AIRCRAFT LOSS BY FIRE WAS LARGE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The material losses in the fire which destroyed the aircraft factories at Friedrichshafen Saturday night were enormous, including thirty squadrons of airplanes reserved for use against the American air fleets, it was announced here today.

Bailleul on the Douve river, gives Hindenburg a hold in the southern foothills of the ridge. The tenability of this position itself is questionable. But from Wulverghem and Wytshaete, he can keep the British occupied on the southern and eastern edges of the ridge while he strives to swing northeastward from Bailleul against the western edge of the ridge.

In the event that Messines should fall, only a miracle of British grit would save Ypres, which never has been in German hands.

Wulverghem, Important Objective of Enemy Is Also Abandoned By Haig's Forces As Hordes of Troops Advance; Two Towns Guarded Ypres Salient

LONDON, April 16.—Bailleul, one of the most important strategic points on the northern portion of the Flanders salient, has been captured by the Germans, Field Marshal Haig reported today.

"We have fallen back north of Bailleul and Wulverghem," Haig said. "Bailleul is in the enemy's hands."

The British have abandoned both Bailleul and Wulverghem, Haig's report indicates, but the Germans have occupied only the former city. Wulverghem, which is dominated by Messines ridge, on the north, probably is rendered untenable by British artillery fire from that height.

Fresh German attacks in the neighborhood of Wytshaete (four miles south of Ypres) and southwest of Vieux-Berquin (four miles southwest of Bailleul and the same distance due north of Merville) were repulsed this morning, Haig said. A number of German prisoners were taken in a minor operation last night southeast of Robecq (a mile and a half south of St. Venant).

APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Senate today passed a legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, appropriating seventy million dollars for salaries of officials and expenses of government departments. The bill has already passed the House.

PRIVATE KILLED BY MEXICAN BULLET

LAREDO, Tex., April 16.—Private Thomas S. Atchinson, headquarters company, 37th infantry, was killed when a bullet fired across the river from the Mexican side early today struck him.

DEATH PENALTY FOR SPIES IS PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Death penalty for spies or persons interfering with the army and navy is provided in a bill introduced by Senator Chamberlain in the Senate today. The bill also provides that enemy agents, spies and propagandists shall be tried by military court martial instead of the civil court. The bill would make the whole United States a part of the "zone of military operations."

KAISER PLANNING ITALIAN OFFENSIVE

WASHINGTON, April 16.—The Austrian Press duplicating the widespread prediction by German newspapers of the West front drive, is heralding a vast Italian offensive.

Operations in the new theater will be so extensive, says the Vossische Zeitung, according to official Rome cables today, that the Teuton armies will virtually encircle Switzerland and put that nation's neutrality to "the severest tests." American troops in Lorraine adjoining Switzerland may be attacked at the same time, it was hinted.

FRENCH RAIDS RESULT IN MANY PRISONERS

PARIS, April 16.—Successful French raids in the Chemins Des Dames and Toul sectors where American troops are fighting were reported by the French war office today.

French patrols took prisoners in the Corbie sector in the Champagne, and in the Vosges. There was active artillery fire north of Montdidier. The French advanced slightly at Noyon. Along the Oise canal there were French reconnaissances. West of Pierre Mande a French reconnoitering expedition crossed the canal and brought back prisoners.

FIRST GERMAN WAR PRISONERS ARRIVE AT ATLANTIC PORT

AN ATLANTIC PORT, April 16.—The first German prisoners of war arrived in the United States today. They are members of the crew of the submarine U 53 which was sunk by an American destroyer. The prisoners are to be interned. Their exact number was not given out, but it is believed there are about twenty.

"Between Bailleul and Neuve Eglise yesterday evening an intense bombardment was followed by a heavy enemy attack by three picked divisions (36,000 men) which had not previously been engaged. They succeeded after a fierce and bitter struggle, in carrying the high ground southeast and east of Bailleul, known as Mont-de-Lille and Le Kavetsburg."

Bailleul has been the scene of the most desperate fighting in the entire Flanders drive. It was the stronghold from which the British hurled back the Germans from the northern edge of the Flanders salient. It guarded the entire Ypres salient from the south and its fall endangers the British positions in Ypres, on the Messines ridge and Zonnebeke.

Bailleul is the first of the main geographical objectives of the German drive to fall. It is located on the Armentieres-Hazebrouck railway, midway between the two cities. It is three and a half miles west of Neuve Eglise, which also is now in German hands. The way now appears to be open westward to Hazebrouck, the most important railway and highway center in Flanders and northward to Ypres, around the western edge of Messines ridge.

Bailleul, before the war, was a town of about 12,000 persons. It was of excellent construction according to gazetteers and was of Flemish design. It was destroyed by the Germans in the war, and recently the city was set on fire and half destroyed.

TERRIFIC FIGHTING MARKED HUN VICTORY

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, April 16.—The Germans are in Bailleul. Von Stetten's fresh troops attacked from the south, while von Carlowitz hurled storm troops northward past the city, on the east, simultaneously assaulting Le Ravetsberg Heights, which are the southernmost bastions of an agglomeration of protuberances rising out of the otherwise pancake-like lowlands of Flanders.

Several divisions swept against Bailleul itself. Rushing up reinforcements, Hindenburg is attacking heavily from near Merville to Neuve Eglise.

(This takes in the entire right center of the German drive. From Merville to Neuve Eglise is 11 miles in an airline, but the front covers nearer 15 miles and embraces Merville, Vieux-Berquin, Merris, Meteren, Bailleul and Neuve Eglise.)

MORALE OF U. S. TROOPS ACTS AS WARNING

Hindenburg In 'Tryout' on American Courage Is Convinced of Strength

HUN CHIEF'S BEST TROOPS IN BATTLE

Manner In Which Sammies Met Assault Evidence of Future Worth

BY J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press)

NEW YORK, April 16.—Von Hindenburg's first serious attempt to test the morale of the American troops in France has had results that must prove highly disconcerting to the German general staff. There can be no doubt but that the enemy thrusts against the American trenches in the St. Mihiel sector have been for the purpose of permitting Hindenburg to determine the fighting qualities of General Pershing's forces. It is now essential for Hindenburg to know with fair exactitude how the Americans are capable of fighting because American units are beginning to arrive in support of the British lines protecting the roads to the channel ports.

Hindenburg, therefore, unquestionably ordered test attacks be developed against the trenches held exclusively by Americans in eastern France so that German commanders could be instructed what to do when encountering Americans in Picardy and Flanders.

Faced Best Troops
This is why "shock troops" were used by the Germans. "Shock troops" are the most highly trained and most dependable soldiers in the German army. They are not wasted on unimportant raiding expeditions, but are carefully preserved for offensive purposes in major operations or for important experimental work. The employment of these "shock troops" against the Americans can have been for no other purpose than to provide information for Hindenburg as to the conduct of American troops when attacked by the best offensive units in the Kaiser's army.

As a result of these encounters instructions must certainly be issued to German commanders to exercise great caution and take no chances when engaged in operations against Americans. There is no room to doubt but that the German shock troops were overwhelmed in the hand to hand engagements with the Americans and that the assault of these picked soldiers of the Kaiser against the American trenches were broken down without difficulty. Had the Germans not retreated to their trenches they would have been annihilated by the individual rifle work of the Americans. There is every reason for America to feel satisfied with the outcome of the first real test between Hindenburg's and Pershing's men.

NIGHT REPORTS

Brief Summary of the News Which Appeared In This Morning's Papers

AMERICANS DRIVE INVADERS BACK

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, April 15.—The German attack against the American positions on the right bank of the Meuse, north of St. Mihiel, yesterday was made by a force of 400 picked troops who were recently brought there from the Russian front. Although the Americans were outnumbered more than two to one they completely repulsed the enemy, driving him back to his own trenches. The known casualties include sixty-four dead, many wounded and eleven prisoners, besides a number of wounded who were dragged back to the German lines by their comrades.

AVERT CRISIS ON IRISH QUESTION

LONDON, April 15.—The Labor ministers of the cabinet in an interview with Premier Lloyd George tonight pressed the premier to grant self-government to Ireland on the basis of the majority report of the Irish convention before conscription is put into operation. It is understood that the conference had satisfactory results and there will not be a cabinet crisis.

3,000,000 U. S. TROOPS BY 1919

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Important official conferences await the return of Secretary of War Baker to Washington after inspecting American forces and conditions along the western front.

Impressive estimates for increases in the army wait his approval.

Minimum estimates already have been prepared by the War Department for presentation to Congress. They provide for expansion on a scale that would give the United States an army of approximately 3,000,000 men by the end of 1918.

T. P. O'Connor Cancels His Speaking Engagements to Watch Irish Situation

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Cancelling all speaking engagements in the west, T. P. O'Connor, Irish leader, who has been touring the United States announced today that he would hurry to Washington to remain there while the Irish situation is acute. "I feel that during the complicated and perilous political situation at home my place is in Washington," O'Connor said today. He expressed the belief that President Wilson's views will have great weight in the final decision of the Irish question.

LEWIS MEN TO BE AMONG FIRST TO GO

(By United Press.)
CAMP FREMONT, Menlo Park, Cal., April 16.—Rumors that the eighth division would be rushed to France were set somewhat at rest today when the commanding officer expressed the opinion that the division will be held here until it has completed its full training program.

The officers predicted that the divisions at Camps Kearny and Lewis will be the first to go from the Pacific coast, as they are at full war strength and have thorough training.

'BALDHEADED DADDY' OUSTED FROM COLLEGE

CHICAGO, April 16.—Notice of suspension as associate professor of sociology in the University of Chicago was to be served today on William I. Thomas, the "baldheaded daddy" of pretty Mrs. R. M. Granger. Thomas' arraignment in morals court yesterday on a disorderly conduct charge was followed by a telegraphic order of suspension from President Judson in Washington, D. C.

TAKING OF BOGHE PRISONERS IS PASTIME

One Sammy Goes Into No Man's Land and Captures Hun to Get a Match

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMIES IN FRANCE, April 16.—Details of Sunday morning's battle on the left bank of the Meuse proved that the new American army is more than the master of the Germans.

The boches used their best storm troops to attack us. Numerous naturalized Italians, Poles, Irish, English and Scandinavians were in the American force which, with a knockout blow, repulsed the Germans. The enemy came on in a two-wave formation after a barrage. Storm troops led the attack.

After a three hour fight the 400 Germans were hurled back. They left 64 dead, 11 prisoners and 22 mitrail-leuses.

Ready For 'Em

"The boches are too respectful now even to fire on patrols. The men are sharpening their bayonets and want to get some more boches," said an officer.

"One typical American private, Italian born, but a 'good American' now, encountered several Germans in his trench. He killed one and the rest fled. Pumping bullets after them, the private chased them into No Man's Land and captured two. Returning with them to the American trenches, he asked a sergeant for a match. The latter told him to capture another German, and he would get it."

Got Another

"The private thought he had already earned it, but he went out into No Man's Land again and returned with a six-footer—18 inches taller than himself."

The Germans are equipped with new trench daggers, six inches long and with double edges. The enemy troops are husky and average about 18 years of age.

The Americans are smaller but appear tougher.

"The Americans are laden with 'Gott Mit Uns' belt buckles as souvenirs."

The average opinion of the American troops regarding their Teuton enemies was expressed by a private, who said:

"They are great big bums. They're yellow clear through."

The Brunswick Phonograph and Pathe Discs The Ideal Combination

Although The Brunswick plays all records and has won its fame largely because of this feature, we recommend Pathe Discs especially. And we believe you will agree, too, that you would not want a phonograph which would prohibit you from buying Pathe Discs if you wanted them.

The Pathe principles of record making and reproducing give more natural tones. With each Brunswick we supply a reproducer for Pathe Discs with Sapphire Ball needles. The Brunswick has a tone chamber built entirely of wood, like a violin. So the tones are soft and vibrant, never metallic nor harsh.

A Musical Treat

The Pathe collection of records is the largest the world has ever known. It includes all the European selections, where Pathe originated, and most of the leading American selections. Many of the foremost singers, musicians, bands, etc., perform exclusively for Pathe.

But do not get the impression that The Brunswick plays only Pathe Records. It plays them all as if on their own machines. And better, music lovers say, because of our scientifically constructed sound chamber.

Buy Any Make of Records

The Brunswick removes all restrictions as to what you shall play and what you shall not play. You do not have to buy one make of records.

You can take your choice from them all. So you may enjoy your favorite selections with your favorite artists.

GIVES ORTEGO $50. TEN DAYS

Jury Finds Placentian Guilty of Speeding, Cox Does the Rest

Yesterday afternoon the jury that tried James J. Ortego, Placentian orange grower, on a charge of speeding, found him guilty, and Justice Cox sentenced him to pay a fine of $50 and to go to jail for ten days.

Ortego's attorney, H. G. Ames of Anaheim, gave notice of appeal. Ortego put up $300 cash bail pending the outcome of the case in the superior court.

The motorcycle officers testified that Ortego was travelling fifty-eight miles an hour.

After Attorney Ames' unsuccessful attempt to get a change of venue yesterday morning, trial was commenced before the jury. Deputy District Attorney W. F. Menton had three witnesses. Motorcycle Officers Roy Ballard and O. K. Carr testified that they had a distance of 300 feet measured upon the state highway, and with their stop watches took a man's time going through a distance, designated by them as a trap. A schedule was arranged whereby the motorcycle officers, having the time, could glance at a sheet and tell how fast per hour the machine was going. According to that schedule and the time shown on their stop watches, Ortego passed through the trap at a rate of fifty-eight miles an hour.

J. B. Lockwood of the county surveyor's office testified as to the correctness of the computations upon the speed sheet.

Three witnesses were examined by the defense. Ortego and Victor Hurtado, who was with him, said that they were going between twenty-eight and thirty-two miles an hour. They had observed their speedometer. Vincent Bruce, an Anaheim garage employee, said that Ortego's machine, a Chevrolet, would not go anywhere near fifty-eight miles an hour unless it was especially geared. Ortego's machine was not especially geared. He said Ortego's machine would not go fifty. On cross-examination, Bruce said that Chevrolet cars are sold on a guarantee that they will go fifty-four miles an hour.

The jury was out but a few minutes, and brought in a verdict of guilty.

Attorney Ames said that since there was a conflict of testimony, Justice Cox ought to impose no jail sentence. "Fines do no good in these high grade speed cases," said Justice Cox. "In the last year and a half the number of accidents in this county has been decreased seventy-five per cent by the enforcement of the law. I see no other way out of handling the speed menace excepting by treating all alike and by making penalties of some consequence. In this case the sentence is that Ortego pay a fine of $50 and that he go to jail for ten days." Ames gave notice of appeal, and Ortego put up $300 cash bail pending the outcome of the case in the superior court.

HAVE COLOR IN CHEEKS

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edward after 17 years of study with his patients.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually at 10c and 25c per box. All druggists. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results.

RANCHERS WIN RAILWAY STRIP

Judge West Rules S. P. Has Lost Title to Old Anaheim Right of Way

By a judgment rendered by Judge West, title to the old right of way of the Southern Pacific between Ford's ranch on the state highway and West Anaheim goes to the ranchers along the way.

This is one of the most important decisions rendered in the superior court in months. Ranchers sued, declaring that they as adjoining property owners were entitled to the land because the railroad no longer used the strip for railroad purposes.

The case was one that had fought. It took several days for the introduction of evidence last October, and involved many questions of law.

Back in 1876

The basis of the action goes back to deeds that were given the Southern Pacific when it was getting ready to build its Los Angeles to Santa Ana line in the seventies. Among the reservations of the deed was one that stated that should the right of way then deemed not be used for railroad purposes it should revert to the grantor or his successors.

Some fifteen years ago the S. P. decided to establish a depot closer to the city of Anaheim. A new right of way was secured from a point on the present state highway a short distance north of the county hospital, and a new road was built swinging into Anaheim and connecting the old road at West Anaheim. Since then the S. P. has used the old tracks but little. Ranchers and their attorneys, H. C. Head and W. R. Garrett, took the ground that the S. P. had forfeited title because of disuse. In preparing evidence for the court case, some of the ranchers tied wire around the rails and left the wire there for days. It showed no mark of any train passing.

Torrens Title Feature

During the trial attorneys for the S. P. set up as a defense against some of the ranchers that they had placed their lands under the Torrens land title, and because the court in its Torrens judgment had not decreed that the rancher was owner of the adjoining strip, the rancher could not afterward come into court and lay claim to the adjoining strip. Judge West in his decision, giving title to the ranchers, declared that the Torrens judgment did not have anything to do with the title to the strip. That judgment determined title to property in no way involved in the contest over the old railroad right of way.

Means an Appeal

There is little question but that the S. P. will take an appeal. That the ranchers will ultimately win is hoped by a good many people who believe that the land will be more productive and the hands of the ranchers than if in the hands of the railroad.

The ranchers who are winners of portions of the railroad right of way are Richard H. Hannah, E. J. Hughes, E. P. Squires, E. L. Sargent, M. F. Hughes, John Osborn, Joseph Fiscus, Ida C. Hamilton and Arthur E. Hurley. The strip involved is about two miles long and is 100 feet in width.

REVIEWS DIFFERENCES IN THE BREAK-UP OF ALISO DAIRY COMPANY

Judge Cabaniss and a jury have been hearing evidence in the trial of the action brought by J. T. Raitt against C. F. Heil. In that case Raitt is asking over $200,000 damages on his allegation that he was not allowed to carry out a contract under which he and Heil organized the Aliso Dairy and three years ago. He is asking for what would have been a share of profits if the business had been allowed to go ahead. In reply Heil is asking to go ahead. Raitt is asking that Raitt by mismanagement caused the company great loss.

So far the principal witness has been Raitt. He alleges that the cows of the dairy would have earned $120 a year per cow.

That he might not have to remain over C. W. Carver for the defendant was allowed to testify out of order. He is manager of the Crescent Dairy at Cypress. He said that in the last three years, owing to the price of feed, there has been little profit in dairying. He said cows earned about $30 each in 1915, and in the last two years practically nothing.

Manager Platt of the Los Angeles Creamery Co., a witness for Raitt, testified that the firm has 800 cows and they earn from $5 to $7 per cow per month.

Something of the difficulties between Raitt and Heil was brought out in the testimony of T. J. Gould and Davis who were drivers. It was stated by Davis that when Heil was making ready to take the milk routes out of Raitt's hands addresses were changed so that milk routes could not be easily followed by Heil. Those witnesses were favorable to Raitt, and their testimony concerning friction in the company was for the plaintiff.

PROTESTS AGAINST ILLEGAL FISHING

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 16.—There was an article in Saturday evening's Register about pulling trawl nets within the three-mile limit along the Orange county shore. This kind of fishing around Huntington Beach is taking place almost daily close in to the pier and it ought to be stopped, as the wanton destruction of small fish and spawn will not compensate for the saving in fish food gained. It is simply one way of profiteering, for the prices of fish remain the same, and those in authority should see that this kind of profiteering, by destruction and driving the fish away from our pier, is stopped. The writer has seen the boats fishing with trawl nets very close to the municipal pier here and has seen the fishermen place canvass over the numbers on their boats so they might not be detected and reported.

It is to be hoped that some of our game officers will take interest enough in this matter to have such fishing within the three-mile limit contrary to law put to a stop inasmuch as the government does not sanction such lawlessness.

PENALIZING INTELLIGENCE

By an amendment to the War Revenue Bill, rejected by the Senate after full hearing and investigation, but passed by the House, which refused to hold hearings and hastily incorporated it as a "rider," the freight rates of the magazines and periodicals of the country are raised 500 to 900 per cent.

There was absolutely no excuse for this piece of legislation. In the past few years, magazines have done more to unite the country, to steady its thought, to help it to function as a whole instead of in partisan and provincial sections than almost any other influence. The great improvements in homes, schools and living conditions in general have largely been due to their efforts. The weeklies have kept the country alive in dozens of ways in which their more leisurely publication supplements that of the hurried daily newspaper. Trade journals, magazines of higher literary quality—all these are not only read by the nation as a whole, but needed by it.

The daily paper is wanted by everyone. It admirably fulfills the function of getting big news quickly, and getting local news and features to a local public. But to fill its place best in community life, it needs the comradeship of the periodical which unifies the thought of the local communities.

To force upon these periodicals the burden of a zone rate for postage is absurd. Most of the magazines are published in the East, simply because the East is older, and they got started there. Why should a Californian or an Oregonian pay two or three times the price paid by a New Yorker? The natural result will be to cut the circulation of the established periodicals, and encourage the starting of dozens of small, sectional magazines. None of these will be very good. None will be national in scope. All will lead precarious existences. What's the use?

The Californian wants to know what they are doing and thinking in New York. The Bostonian finds his sphere enlarged by learning what is happening in Kansas. By this common influence people in all sections are conscious that they are Americans first and sectionalists afterward. Must all this wholesome influence go to naught because of an unintelligent congress?

Why this ridiculous penalty upon the intelligence of the country?

AMERICAN INDIANS IN THE WAR

The American Indian is in the war to win, like every other good American. The commissioner of Indian affairs, in response to requests for information regarding the red man's support of Uncle Sam's war business, recently made a statement giving the few details he has been able to gather to date.

Indian farmers and stock raisers have done so well in recent years that they have earned the reputation of first class agriculturists. It was to be expected that the campaign for the production of more meat and larger crops would meet a quick response on the Indian reservations and private farms of Indians who are full-fledged citizens. The response came in increased production of needed foodstuffs.

In the first two Liberty Bond campaigns the Indians subscribed more than $10,000,000. They are keeping up their record in the present campaign.

The number of Indians in military service is estimated at 5000. Mr. Sells has detailed reports for about half that number. Three hundred of them are in the navy, 1800 in the army and 100 in other military work. Six hundred of the number were drafted. All the rest enlisted. There are officers among them, although Mr. Sells has not yet a complete list of them.

The service flag of one of the leading Indian schools contains 150 stars, all but 15 of which represent volunteer enlistments.

That probably is not the whole story. The Indians are serving with the same military status as the white man. And it is just that they should. Their patriotism is the same, their enthusiasm is as great, their response to the nation's call has been as prompt and wholehearted.

And it's quite natural, when you come to think of it. The Indian was the original exponent of the things we're fighting for—American liberty.

SMALL SUBSCRIPTIONS SIGNIFICANT

Early reports from Liberty Loan headquarters indicate that there is going to be a big increase in the number of subscriptions.

This means, if the forecast is correct, that there will be considerably more than 10,000,000 individual subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan. There ought to be, of course. But every good American will find much satisfaction in assurance on that point.

We might say that the number of subscribers is really more important than the amount of subscriptions. The money is needed, but money can always be obtained somehow or other to tide over an emergency. The main thing needed is proof of genuine interest in the war, genuine sympathy with its purposes, genuine determination to win it, full support of the government on the part of the nation as a whole; and this great requisite is supplied when representatives of the big majority of Americans of every class and every section are found on the Liberty Loan subscription lists.

Every man and woman should bear this in mind. Don't be deterred from buying a bond by the fact that you can't buy a big one. Your $50 subscription means as much, in adding up the total number of subscribers, as your neighbor's $1000 subscription.

The German government is said to have raised $200,000,000 to build new merchant ships. We hope it will get them built before the war ends. They'll be so useful to replace our U-boat losses when we begin presenting damage bills to the Kaiser.

Hawaiian lepers on the island of Molokai have bought $3000 worth of war savings stamps. How many have you bought?

WHERE WAR IS REAL

The British premier has asked parliament to raise the military age to 50 years, and in certain specified cases to 55, so as to command the services of men with special qualifications. At the same time the premier seeks to soften the blow by explaining that "not all of the men between 42 and 50 are going to be called to the fighting line."

We should regard it as an intolerable demand, and a proof of tragic military need, if any of our men over 42 were obliged to fight. At the present time no American over 30 is subject to the draft, and there is no immediate likelihood of that age limit being raised.

We have scarcely begun to draw upon our man-power. We think we are at war, but we have not yet felt the war's pressure at all, either in human loss or in economic hardship.

We are in continual danger of underestimating the peril and the efforts of our allies, because we know so little about them, and our own experience gives us so little ground for understanding them. We take their sacrifices all the more lightly because they don't whine about them. It would be better for our souls, and better for our successful prosecution of the war, if we could really put ourselves, for a little while, in the place of the British or French.

"WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?"

Secretary Daniels says that when an American warship returns to port from a long, gruelling submarine chase, where there is neither sleep nor rest for days at a time, and where the strain on muscles and nerve is almost unbearable, the first question asked by the officers and men is, "Where shall we go from here?" Never a word of complaint or impatience. Nothing but eagerness to know where duty will take them next.

It is the same with the soldiers, says the secretary. "Not a word of criticism from our boys knee-deep in the mud of the trenches in France. The great, strong, brave, unconquered voice of the American army and navy today is, 'Where shall we go from here?'"

It's a good motto for the people at home. We all have our duties in the war, most of them less heroic in quality than those of the fighting men, but all of them necessary and important. It would be a fine thing if we could all adopt a civilian equivalent, and get into the habit of asking, after every little service rendered to help on the war, "What shall we do next?"

GET BEHIND PERSHING

"The German army can be beaten; the German army will be beaten; the German army must be beaten."

GENERAL PERSHING.

When General Pershing said that, he was counting on YOU AND ME, AND EVERY OTHER AMERICAN TO BUY LIBERTY BONDS. We must offer our hearts, our souls, our pocketbooks to him in his task, even as he, without stint, offered every American soldier, himself included, to General Foch, the great French commander. Get behind Pershing with your share of bonds.

You have no moral right to vote at the next election unless you buy your share of Third Loan Liberty Bonds. Your share is one bond more than you think you can afford.

What Is the Liberty Loan?

By R. E. McMillan

It's forts and it's ships and it's shining guns. It's squadrons that sweep the sea. It's all of the circling band of steel that shall keep the home shores free. It's good and it's warmth for the sailor lad, far out on the wintry foam—for the brave jack tar, as he fights afar. It's the good old "Money from Home."

What is the Liberty Loan? It's rifle and helm and it's bayonet, it's shovel and shrapnel, for the soldier boy in the olive drab, out there on the edge of hell. It's the soaring wings of the whirling planes that battle on high alone. For the lad who is daring "Over There." It's the good old "Money from Home."

What is the Liberty Loan? It's the succor and life for a bleeding world. It's the glimmer of Peace at dawn. It's the strength of a mighty arm to strike. It's the gleam of a great sword, drawn, but, more than that, it's the pledge of love to the lads whom we call "Our Own," to the boys on land, afloat, on high, it's the good old "Money from Home."

BUY THAT LIBERTY BOND TODAY.

Bud Flivver's Observations

 When I was over—At Smith Center—Visiting my cousin—Mrs. Mary Dingle—I learned a lot—About boys and things—

 And the first night—I was there—Mary told me—What a fine—Good little fellow—Her Archibald is—

 And she told me—How Archibald—Used to associate—With little Billy Dukes—Down the street—And what a bad boy Billy is—

 And she said—Mrs. Dukes don't try—To make Billy mind—And lets him run around—And bother the neighbors—

 And when he comes over—To her house—She makes him go home—Because she don't want Archibald—To play with him—

 And next morning—Archibald was missing—And Mary got—To stewing around—And couldn't find him—

 And she said—She bet two bits—He was out playing—With that ornery—Little Billy Dukes—

 And she asked me—Would I mind—Walking down street—To see if I could—Locate the little brat—

 And I told her—I would rather hunt kids—Than be governor—And I started out—After the little angel-face—

 And I walked—Up one street—And down another—And was about—To report a missing kid—To the town marshal—

 And when I came—To an alley—I heard a young hyena bawling—Like a young calf—

 And behind a garage—I found two grimy combatants—And Archibald's clothes were torn—And all dirty—

 And his eyes were blackened—And his face scratched—And Billy's nose was bleeding—And he was howling like a loon—

 And I asked Archibald—What did he mean—Playing with Billy Dukes—When he knew his mother—Didn't want him to—

 And he said—"I wasn't playing—With him—I was fighting him—And I'm going to—Do it some more!"

 And I went back—To the house—And Mary asked me—Had I found Archibald—And I said—"He's all right!"—And she asked me—Was he playing—With the Dukes boy—And I said—"Not exactly!"—By Bud.

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

Heard in Santa Ana

City Street Superintendent O'Brien has been "figgering."

He is just as patriotic and loyal to the government as he is to the city. He has been figuring for the government—and the people. He believes that the government can be materially assisted in its financing plans and without all the work incident to putting over Liberty bonds and other drives.

He doesn't propose, however, that the Liberty Bond issues should be side-tracked, should more become necessary to see the government through. He would have the people of the nation give the government outright the equivalent of the day's earnings of each individual.

"I believe if the government would declare a national day for every one to give his or her earnings on that day to the government, that the people would gladly do so," said O'Brien, in speaking of his plan. "In my opinion the move would raise over a million dollars and the money would be available within thirty days. It would simply be supplemental to other financing plans, and its advantage would be that of the immediate raising of cash.

"In the case of large concerns employing a great number of people, arrangements could be made for such concerns to forward on the date to some central headquarters—a check covering the earnings of their employees and deduct the amount from their wages on pay day.

"This would result in financial support from many who cannot take Liberty Bonds or participate in any other of the financing plans. I believe the patriotism of the American people is such that they would be glad to donate to the government a full day's pay—and they could do it without imposing a hardship on themselves."

Increasing Crops by Electricity

FROM THE WASHINGTON TIMES

Increasing crops by electricity—news that the French accomplish this on a big scale is in the long run more important to the world than all the news of this war.

The scientific publication, L'Industrie Electrique, tells how a plant's growth is forced and actually increased by electricity in some cases as much as 80 per cent. Potatoes, carrots, beets, and tomatoes are increased 20 to 50 per cent in size. Incidentally the treatment discourages worms and insects that attack the plants.

From the beginning of history agriculture, man's most important physical work, has been most thoroughly neglected. Governments that have spent billions on palaces, armies, and navies, have allowed the farm worker to struggle unaided. In many parts of the world today you will find an army with modern rifles and farmers scratching the ground with a wooden plow.

But human intelligence and science are beginning to realize at least that the earth under our feet is our real possession and the thing worth while.

With a great waterfall able by producing electricity to add 50 per cent to the crop, with the Government owning the source of power, as it will—retailing the power at cost to farmers and to industries—several big problems will be on the road to solution.

After the bawl is over poor Dad sometimes get a little sleep.

A certain motion picture actress is advertised as "the girl with the champagne eyes." Bubbling over with mirth, probably.

Drink to me only with thine eyes!

For heavy reading I suggest the book which the fashion magazines advertise: "How to be Stylish, Though Stout."

It was Sunday evening, and a local young man was calling upon his best girl. Along about ten o'clock he said, softly: "If I kissed you, would you scream for your parents?" She blushed slightly as she replied: "Why, do you want to kiss them, too?"

And then what?

FOR ARMENIANS

Dr. J. P. McNaughton Appeals
For Help In Address to Poly Students

Dr. J. P. McNaughton, secretary of the Armenian and Syrian Relief Society, addressed the Poly students yesterday, and asked for assistance in this great work.

He stated that we people of the United States owe the Armenians, Syrians and Greeks more than all the rest of the world, because they are the foundation of our present civilization. If the foundations laid by these people were to be removed, America would be effaced from the map.

These people are gifted, as are we Americans, are learned and have attained a high standard of mentality, he asserted. The Turks have massacred them, simply because they are Christians. The bestial Turks have put them to all conceivable kinds of torture to make them forsake their religion for that of Mohammed.

A striking example of the bravery of these people was portrayed when a body of college men was led out to be beaten to death by the Turks. Their dying request was to be allowed to sing a song, and they sang "Nearer My God to Thee," dying with these words upon their lips.

The college girls, rather than embrace the Turkish religion, submitted to deportation and its attendant torture.

He closed with the statement that every Armenian saved at the present time is so much saved in this war.

Barley and Good Cooking

Barley is one of the most important cereals, and is also one of the most hardy. It can be grown in sub-tropical countries, and can be cultivated farther north than any other cereal. It is known as one of the most ancient foods, having been found in deposits belonging to the Stone Period.

Barley was introduced into America by the early colonists.

As barley is neutral in flavor, it is an excellent substitute for wheat in the making of bread, biscuits, muffins, cake, etc. A well-known baker is using all-barley for pie-crust. But on account of its lack of gluten, barley is best combined with wheat flour. Twenty-five or thirty per cent barley with white or whole-wheat flour brings excellent results. If eggs are used in a recipe, more barley flour may be used in proportion to the wheat flour.

While not rich in gluten, it is a highly nutritious food, and housekeepers are daily learning its advantages in many recipes:

Devil's Quick Coffee Cake (with barley flour):

3/4 cup barley flour.

1 1/4 cups white flour.

1/2 cup light syrup.

4 level teaspoons baking powder.

1 egg.

3/4 cup milk.

1/2 teaspoon salt.

1 1/2 rounded tablespoons Cottoleone.

Cinnamon, allspice and cloves to taste.

Sift together flours, cinnamon, and other spices, baking powder and salt.

Add egg well-beaten and mixed gradually with milk. Melt Cottoleone slowly and beat in the syrup. Add to first mixture. Bake in moderate oven, in shallow well-greased pan, about 25 minutes.

Red Cross Brides' Luncheon

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply For Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whiten and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.—Adv.

VIGILANCE COMMITTEES TO BE APPOINTED IN EACH COMMUNITY IN COUNTY

TO THE PUBLIC

In view of the fact that the banks of Orange county have had to assimilate a great amount of business in a very short time, they have therefore been unable to make their reports to the Federal Reserve Bank as promptly as is required.

The figures that have been given from day to day in the daily papers have been the figures furnished by the chairmen of the different localities. As it is the figures of the Federal Reserve Bank that governs the entire transaction, it has been deemed wise by the county chairman not to give out any more figures for publication until the banks of Orange county have had an opportunity to file with the Federal Reserve Bank its daily reports. So the figures regarding the amount subscribed in Orange county will be given out until Friday, April 19, by which time all reports should be in.

Respectfully,
R. L. BISBY,
Chairman Orange County Liberty Loan Committee.

"Santa Ana is not over the top by $179,850."

This is all the information on the Liberty Bond campaign obtainable from County Chairman Bisby today. He has closed up like a clam, so far as giving information as to the standing of the county and the different communities today.

The county banks have been swamped with the subscriptions turned into them as the result of the efforts in every section of the county to put the county over the top within the first week, with the result that they have not been in position to report to the federal bank—and reports to the federal bank are what count.

A vigilance committee in Santa Ana and every community in the county to "touch" the slackers is one of the next things on the program to bring about participation by every individual who is capable of assisting the government with finances. The local vigilance committees will be a part of and will co-operate with the State Vigilance Committee.

"It is just as much the work of the county chairman to stamp out sedition in the several different communities as it is to secure the money for the loan," said Bisby this morning. "It is just as necessary that each citizen of Orange county should do all that he can afford to do in order that he may show the amount of his loyalty."

"Buying a $50 bond when one is capable of buying $100, $200 or $1000 bonds, is not expressing loyalty in its true terms, and it will be necessary for the vigilance committee to make an investigation in these matters."

State Vigilance Committee

"A special meeting of the State Central Liberty Loan Committee for Southern California has been called to consider the question of what should be its attitude toward certain persons who either flatly refuse to subscribe to the Liberty Loan and other war measures, or grudgingly subscribe for small amounts so obviously out of all proportion to their known ample ability, as to make it perfectly clear that they are evading their just obligations and their public duty as loyal American citizens."

"Statements made to the committee, based on the experience of the volunteer workers who have sold Liberty Bonds in the preceding campaigns, prove beyond any possibility of doubt that an appreciable number of persons who possess substantial means, nevertheless refuse to support the Liberty Loan. Such persons constitute in number a very small fraction of the total population, which has rallied splendidly and enthusiastically to the call, but nevertheless they are sufficiently numerous and their resources great enough to render their attitude of non-support toward the loan a matter too serious to be overlooked at a time when the nation is engaged in a terrible struggle with a powerful and unscrupulous enemy whose aim and purpose it is to destroy the very institutions upon which the life of this nation depends."

No Time to Mince Words

"The present is no time in which to mince words or spare feelings in dealing with persons who are obviously slacking in his desperate crisis. The motives which prompt these persons to hold back from their manifest duty should be searched out and disclosed."

"If their attitude is the result of careless indifference and failure to perceive clearly the nation's needs, then they should be awakened to a more complete realization of the truth of the situation and of their personal obligations to it."

"If their non-support of the loan is due to exaggerated selfishness and careless disregard of their patriotic duty and a disposition to put their private interests first, then to such persons the responsibilities of their citizenship should be presented so strongly and persistently that they will be brought to a full realization of their obligations to the Government."

"If any persons in our midst are refusing to support the loan by giving it only trifling, technical support, because of sympathy with the enemy and disloyalty in sentiment toward their own country and its Government, then

BILLY DEVENS and Girls in the funny cartoon musical comedy "The Katzenjammer Kids" at the Grand Opera House Saturday and Sunday, April 20 and 21. Matinee Sunday.

The Katzenjammer Kids Coming to Opera House

A cartoon musical comedy that is a distinct departure from any cartoon play that you have ever seen in that it combines all the things that go to make up successful musical comedies, including spectacular and gorgeous scenic effects, novel electrical effects, a fashion parade of real chorus beauties dressed in creations that are right up to the minute, catchy music, fantastic dancing and last but by no means least, real, hilarious fun, is "Katzenjammer Kids," the latest of the comic supplement characters to find their way to the stage.

The Katzenjammer Kids, Hans and Fritz, Ma Katzenjammer, Der Captain, Der Professor, and all the other characters that made the cartoons famous, appear in the show. These characters are surrounded by a big beauty chorus and with catchy songs and novel dancing the result is a real evening's entertainment.

One of the features of "Katzenjammer Kids" is the beauty of the chorus and the costuming. The beautiful girls, and those of the "Katzenjammer Kids" chorus are the pick of Broadway's beauty mart, are gowned in most fashionable creations which will prove a real treat for the ladies.

The first engagement of "Katzenjammer Kids" in this city will take place at the opera house for two nights and one matinee, commencing Saturday, April 20. Reserved seat tickets on sale at Temple Theater, Phone 1402.

'SONS OF THE RED LANDS' PAGEANT

Redlands Will Stage Unique
Event on Saturday,
April 20th

REDLANDS, Cal., April 16.—Preparations for the impressive symbolic pageant entitled "Sons of the Red Lands," to be given on Saturday evening, April 20th, in the municipal amphitheater, Redlands, under the direction of Lillian Burkhardt Goldsmith, are practically completed. While the pageant is symbolic, its dominant note is patriotism.

The production will not include mere amateurs, but will have in the leading roles three grand opera stars, Signor Italo Pizzi, basso; Madame Paolo Barto Luzzi, mezzo soprano, and Signor Monetto Frasca, baritone. Miss Mary Gowans of Los Angeles, a contralto par excellence, and Miss Estu Kite of Pasadena, who is a lyric soprano, will both have prominent roles. Miss Theresa Cogswell will play the leading role. Miss Cogswell won her spurs as an actress in Boston, where press and public accorded her an ovation. Dr. W. P. Burke of Redlands will enact the role of "War," and Dr. V. L. Duke, president of the University of Redlands, will appear in the symbolic role of "England." Sixty girls from the University of Redlands Glee Club, led by the dean of music, will sing the "Marseillaise." The Boy Scouts and Home Guards will have singing roles. Miss Mabel Hubbard, known not only as a clever and charming amateur player, but also because of her charming voice, will portray Joan of Arc.

A group of symbolic figures will be interpreted by five gifted Pomona women prominent in the social and club life of that community, Mesdames Carleton Seaver, T. Hardy Smith, Reginald Knox and C. Hufford. Shadows will be portrayed by prominent Redlands women. Mrs. Elbert Shirk of Indianapolis will take a prominent part, and as no pageant today is considered complete without a Goddess of Liberty, Mrs. Shirk, because of her statuesque beauty, has been chosen for Liberty.

The first part of the pageant and in the shimmering moonlight Redlands' most beautiful children, garbed as Glow Worms and Fairies, will desert themselves. The second part, the Legend of the Arrowhead, will be interpreted by well-known men and women of the Elks and the Redmen. The third part of the pageant will include a group of charming San Bernardino girls, who will do a most delightful number entitled "Dance of the Oranges."

The Grain dance and the Reapers will be given by high school girls and boys, and the dance of the Grapes will be led by Miss Dorothy Lindell of Los Angeles. Four gifted children from Ontario will do a specialty, and Clarence Johnson of Hollywood will do the "Baccanal." A. B. Dean of Corona will appear as "Death" and "Mrs. A. C. Cameron of Redlands as "Democracy." Mrs. L. M. King as "Hope," Miss Gwen Davis as "Freedom," Miss Sylvia Allen as "Knowledge," and Mrs. Reginald Knox of Pasadena as "Love." Beaumont and Banning will send twelve girls who will march with the Red Cross workers. Mrs. Robert C.

Beet Prices Pre-War and Present

The average test of all beets delivered to our factory since we began business in 1912 is 19 per cent.

Heretofore the contract price for beets testing 19 per cent was $5.70 per ton.

In our 1918 contract we guarantee for 19 per cent beets a minimum price of $9.50 per ton, with further possible increases based on the price of sugar.

The Guaranteed Minimum Increase over the pre-war contract price for beets testing as above is

$3.80 Per Ton or 66 2/3 Per Cent

On this basis the returns per acre would be $38.00 greater than the pre-war contract returns on a 10-ton crop, $57.00 greater on a 15-ton crop, and $76.00 greater on a 20-ton crop.

We believe there is no other staple crop which the grower can contract in advance at a high minimum price, practically guaranteeing a good profit, which, at the same time, permits him to share in any higher prices that might prevail later for the product made from his crop. This is an unusually strong factor of safety.

Many People Are Really Honest

—in their belief that chickens do not pay. This is easily explained. As a general rule they have kept no record of either eggs and poultry produced as well as the cost of their feed—or else they simply neglect to credit the hens with all the nice fresh eggs and friers consumed by the family itself. Funny way to figure—isn't it? Don't blame the hen if your pencil needs sharpening.

We have yet to meet a practical poultryman, who keeps accurate record of his hens, and isn't showing a good profit.

GERMAN THROWN OUT OF LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL CURRICULUM

Teachers and Janitors to Be Required to Take Oath of Allegiance

SLIGHT INCREASES IN SALARIES ALLOWED

Miss Whited Given Leave of Absence to Do Food Conservation Work

The Santa Ana Board of Education passed an order eliminating German from the course of study for next year.

All employees of the Santa Ana schools, including superintendent, principals, teachers and janitors, must take an oath of allegiance to the United States and promise to support American war activities.

Slight advances all along the line are to be made in salaries of teachers.

Miss Grace Whited, teacher of domestic science at the high school, was given leave of absence that she may do food conservation work.

The Santa Ana Board of Education went strongly on record last night in favor of eliminating German from the school curriculum of the Santa Ana schools. It was equally decided in its demand for oath of allegiance.

The question of the elimination of German has not been a pressing question here. Several weeks ago the matter was discussed, and it was explained at that time that there is but one class in German in the city schools at the present time. By reason of the fact that there were not enough students registered for first year German last September, that course was not given this year. The only class is a class of nine students taking second year German, required to complete the high school course in one of the departments.

Under the order passed by the school board no German at all will be included in the curriculum next year.

Taking the Oath
The school board received a communication from the Santa Ana G. A.

R. asking that school teachers be required to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. That communication pointed out that every city and county officer, down to a deputy constable, must take an oath to support the government, but no such oath has been required in this state of teachers.

The Santa Ana school board went even further than was outlined in the request of the G. A. R. It not only requires the oath of allegiance, but it also requires that the school teacher take oath to support all war activities so far as lies within their power.

The oath has not yet been worded. City Attorney Scott will be asked to put it in form.

Increase Salaries
By motion, the school board last night declared that a slight increase in salaries would be made this year for all teachers retained by the Santa Ana schools. The question has been brought up by a good many school teachers who have been approached in regard to teaching elsewhere, and also was brought to a head by reports that other schools were going to advance salaries.

Just what advances will be made has not yet been determined. The time for employment of teachers for next year has not yet arrived, but it was deemed advisable by the school board to make the announcement now as to its intentions upon salary advancement.

For Food Conservation
Miss Grace Whited, teacher of domestic science at the Santa Ana High School and Santa Ana Junior College, was given a leave of absence for the remainder of the year that she may engage in lecturing and demonstrations in canning and cooking and in food conservation throughout Orange county. Miss Ruth Rowland was elected substitute for Miss Whited.

Food Profiteers and Hoarders in Austria

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Austria-Hungary is afflicted with a horde of food profiteers and hoarders, according to Hungarian newspapers just received here. The government, they claim, has proceeded against 194 persons in 31 cases of profiteering and hoarding. Many of the schemes for the securing of food, are original.

One man, a printer of Budapest, carried on a flourishing business in food cards—which he had printed himself. He got two years. Another man, a discharged soldier, took lodgings under false names and received cards for each name. When arrested he had twenty-two food cards and sixteen false registration papers.

Under the order passed by the school board no German at all will be included in the curriculum next year.

Taking the Oath
The school board received a communication from the Santa Ana G. A.

GARBAGE MAN IS CITED BEFORE COUNCIL

Must Explain Cause of So Many Complaints Coming In

C. E. Tate, who has the contract for picking up the city garbage, was cited last night by the city council to appear before it next Monday evening and explain why so many complaints are being filed alleging negligence on the part of the contractor. Complaints are coming in with considerable regularity of the failure of the collector to pick up garbage placed on the curbs and in the alleys.

Tate has no telephone and for that reason people whose garbage cans have been overlooked by the collector cannot get in touch with him.

This was the first and most important action of the council in a fifteen minute session held last night. The short session was not because of "too much Johnson" but too much election.

It was necessary for City Clerk Vegely to be in his office to receive the returns as filed by the different election boards, and returns started to come in shortly before 8 o'clock. When the board adjourned, it did so to meet next Monday night to canvass the election returns and transact the business accumulated for the regular session last night.

Referred to Committee
A request from W. Dillingbeck for permission to erect a sign on the curb in front of the Main Street Supply Station, was referred to McPhee and Tubbs.

Jetney License
Waterman & Swager, who have succeeded to Grover's El Toro stage route, were given a license, subject to approval by the railroad commission.

Gasoline Tank Permit
The Edison Company was granted permission to install another gasoline tank at its garage quarters at the corner of Sycamore and Second streets.

URGES FARMERS TO CO-OPERATE IN ALL WAR WORK

Farm Advisor Sprague Makes Appeal to Land Tillers of Orange County

Because of the small amount of interest shown by the farmers of Orange county in the activities of the Farm Center organizations, A. R. Sprague, farm advisor for the county, has prepared a letter of appeal which has been sent out to various farm operators, and has been handed to the press for even further circulation. In this letter Mr. Sprague brings out the urgent need of the co-operation of farmers to do the greatest part of the work "over here" that will help win the war. His appeal follows:

"To the Farmers of Orange County:
"This is a time of burden and stress for all farmers who wish to do their utmost with money, time and effort to win this terrible war; and I recognize that you are often tired or busy when the time comes for Farm Center meetings or for some other special call brought on by the needs of war. But I most urgently represent to you that these Farm Center meetings are the only means which the State and United States administrations have for getting in close touch with all the farmers, and of bringing to their attention matters of deep concern to all patriots as well as those suggestions most likely to be helpful in an agricultural way.

"Without a general membership in the Farm Bureau and a faithful attendance at Farm Center meetings, the part of the war work, for which farmers are responsible, will be badly crippled. I am at this very time quite unable to respond to calls for

Nothing Like Phosphate To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

ORDINARY BITRO-PHOSPHATE WILL DOUBLE THE STRENGTH OF WEAK, DELICATE, NERVOUS PEOPLE IN TWO WEEKS' TIME IN MANY INSTANCES

Weak nerves quickly reduce the strong and robust to an extremely pitiable condition and rob men and women of all the joys of life. Slowly and stealthily the health is destroyed, the poor sufferer only realizing the magnitude of his ailment when faulty memory, sleeplessness, indecision, lack of energy or other unmistakable symptoms indicate weak nerves. Then it is a serious and dangerous mistake to resort to the use of so-called tonics, alcoholic or drug stimulants. Weak and exhausted nerves need food and nourishment—not stimulants that last them into temporary activity. The food and nourishment advised by present day physicians is just one 5-grain tablet of pure bitro-phosphate taken during or immediately after each meal. Simple advice, but its soundness has been proved over and over again.

Moreover the genuine standard bitro-phosphate is inexpensive and is sold by Rowley Drug Co. and most all good druggists under a binding guarantee of satisfaction or money back—Adv.

ATHLETIC ARTICLES NEEDED FOR BOYS IN ARMY CAMP

An appeal for athletic supplies, a shortage of which is depriving the soldier boys in training at Camp Fremont of the pleasures enjoyed in more favored camps, has been sent through the state by James B. Williams, representing the War Camp Community Service Commission of Camp Fremont.

Mr. Williams emphasizes that the government recognizes the teaching of sports as essential to the training of the men, and that therefore the cause is a good one. He says that many of the supplies needed are not available even in the stores of San Francisco, and that this appeal to the hearts of the state's civilians is sent out.

The commission asks for donations of new or old supplies of the following kinds: boxing gloves (for which there is a most urgent demand); baseballs and all baseball articles, soccer balls, etc.

Those wishing to give may send their contributions to the Camp Fremont War Camp Community Service, 166 University avenue, Palo Alto, Cal.

SANTA ANA OFFICE OF SALT LAKE ROAD TO BE CLOSED

This City to Feel Government
Control of Railroads,
Last of Month

The effect of government control of the railroads will be felt in this city by the end of the month, with the closing of the local office of the Salt Lake railroad and the removal of Commercial Agent S. C. Frost and Ticket Agent F. L. Marsh and their families. Frost will probably be assigned to the passenger department in Los Angeles. Marsh does not know where he will be assigned.

The office has been established for many years and its suspension will be for at least the period of the war. Orders have been received at the Los Angeles office of the company from the regional director directing that all outside offices of the company be closed. The offices at Santa Ana, Santa Barbara and Ocean View are effected by instructions issued yesterday by General Passenger Agent Peck and received here this morning.

The agents are to take steps necessary to close the offices by the 30th of April.

Hits All Cities

It is presumed the instructions mean also that up town offices maintained where stations are operated will also be closed.

The building of the Salt Lake branch from Pico Station to Santa Ana has been halted for some time and it is not probable that completion of the extension will be undertaken until after the close of the war. The Salt Lake has already spent a large sum

FILM PRODUCER FOUND GUILTY OF SEDITION

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—Robert S. Goldstein, pictured by his own attorneys as a timid, half-scared victim of an unpsychological moment, and charged by United States district attorneys who prosecuted him on a sedition complaint with being a daring and dangerous German propagandist, was found guilty on two of three counts last night.

The jury brought in a verdict after deliberating several hours. The maximum penalty for conviction on the first two complaints, which charge that Goldstein exhibited a seditious photoplay, "The Spirit of '76," with the intention of creating insubordination and mutiny in the military and naval forces of the United States, is twenty years' imprisonment, or a fine of $10,000.

The jury found the defendant not guilty of the third count, which alleged a conspiracy to violate the espionage act.

KILLS MAN WHO TRIED TO WRECK HOME; TELLS POLICE OF HIS CRIME

Walter G. Wolfe, San Pedro
Nightwatchman Is Now In Jail; Not Sorry

LOS ANGELES, April 16.—After shooting and instantly killing a man who, he declared, had been annoying his wife, Walter G. Wolfe walked to a telephone, called the police and surrendered. He is charged with murder.

Wolfe is a watchman formerly employed by the Trona Corporation in San Pedro. He lives at 3124 Pacific avenue, and yesterday morning, seeing Pedro Espersa, a Mexican night watchman for the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton company, near the window of his home, fired two charges from a shotgun at him. One charge took effect in the head and the other in an arm and shoulder. An inquest over the body of Espersa will be held today in Cleveland's undertaking parlors.

Wolfe is in the San Pedro jail awaiting his preliminary hearing. The police say that Wolfe told them he had been annoyed by Espersa paying unwelcome attentions to Mrs. Wolfe, had warned him to stay away and told him that he would kill him if he did not.

In the last two weeks police have been called to his home by Wolfe, who asked that they see that Espersa ceased his attentions to Mrs. Wolfe.

Any person who desires to subscribe to a fund that is to be turned over to Eugene Young, shot at La Habra by Benjamin W. Elliott, may send the money to the Santa Ana Register.

The subscription list in Santa Ana was started off with a check for $10 from Sheriff C. E. Jackson.

"If Eugene Young lives, he will be unable to work," said Sheriff Jackson, "and if he dies Mrs. Young and the two children will need the money."

Young was a horse shoer at La Habra. His difficulty with Elliott grew out of the fact that Elliott refused to buy a Liberty Bond. Young was entering Elliott's room with the intention of making him kiss the flag when Elliott fired. Young's backbone was shattered. There is little hope for his recovery.

This morning Constable H. F. Ashley of La Habra swore to a complaint charging Elliott with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder. This warrant is based upon Elliott's attack upon Ashley, who went to Elliott's room, told Elliott that he was an officer, and called upon him to surrender. When Elliott refused and raised his revolver, Ashley fired. Elliott was shot twice, but not seriously hurt. His two shots at Ashley missed.

Be practical. Look squarely at the facts. We will either invest our money with Uncle Sam now, at good interest rates, to help him win this war, or we will give it up later to pay Germany's war cost—and as much more as Germany chooses to collect.

BOTH BRIDGE BOND ISSUES GO OVER THE TOP

VOTERS SUPPORT CONTINUATION OF PROGRESS IN THE CITY

About 25 Per Cent of 50 Per Cent Registration Cast Ballots

Main street bridge bonds—Yes, 1283; no, 559; over two-thirds majority, 55; over the two-to-one vote necessary to carry, 165.
Flower street bridge—Yes, 1404; no, 411; over two-thirds majority, 197; over two-to-one vote necessary to carry, 582.

Santa Ana went forward yesterday instead of backward for more than two-thirds of the voters expressing themselves voted to continue Santa Ana on her progressive trend by supporting both of the bridge bond issues. The success of the Main street bridge issue means that the gateway of the city is to be relieved of the eyecore at the Main street crossing of Santiago creek called by courtesy a bridge. The dilapidated and unsafe structure will be supplanted by a handsome reinforced concrete bridge, built in accordance with the plans and specifications accepted by the city council some months ago.

The success of the other issue means that "Visel's Slide" at the Flower street crossing will soon pass into history, and that the residents of West Orange and other traffic by way of Flower street will have a substantial structure to carry them across the creek ere another winter storm swells the stream to the flood point.
Only 25 per cent of the 50 per cent registration cast ballots, and the expression of those casting votes was practically voluntary. There were no workers in any of the precincts out with automobiles pulling in voters, either for or against the propositions. Automobiles were sent out from the city hall in instances where requests were made from individual voters that they be called for, but there was no concerted effort to induce people to go to the polls.

The number of voters registered between 2 o'clock and closing time in the evening in some precincts was almost equal to that cast from 6 in the morning to 2 in the afternoon, those favoring the bonds voting in the later hours.
The heaviest vote was cast in special election precinct 1, at the Intermediate school house, where 213 were cast in favor of Main street and 32 against, and 211 for the Flower street bonds and 28 against. Precinct No. 8 was next strongest in the number of votes cast and support given both issues.

The estimated cost of the Main street bridge is $45,500. The bonds are for $38,500, the Pacific Electric company contributing the difference between the issue and the estimated cost.

The Flower street issue is for $7700 and the structure will cost between $9000 and $10,000, the expectation being that the difference will be salvaged from the Main street bridge when it is wrecked.

The city council will meet next Monday night to canvass the returns.

Mayor Delighted
"I have always had confidence in the people of Santa Ana—I have always been confident that they are alive to the interests of the city and are possessed of the progressive spirit," said Mayor Visel this morning. "I certainly am delighted with the support given the bond issues, and I never for a moment doubted their success. The board has been vindicated. Vigilance and care are expected of the city trustees and the vote proves the confidence imposed in us. The Main street bridge in particular has been a source of worry to us for two years or more, for each member of the board is personally liable in case of accident. It was absolutely necessary for us to carry our burdens to the people and

BRIGADIER GENERAL W. A. WHITE'S STIRRING APPEAL TO BRITISHERS AND CANADIANS IN THE UNITED STATES

If you have eyes with which to read and ears with which to hear, you know that fighting men are wanted AT ONCE in France. Every Britisher and Canadian owes it to himself, his country and civilization itself to volunteer IMMEDIATELY. If he waits to be drafted he will not help.—Brig. Gen. White.

BRITISH PICTORIAL SERVICE.

LLOYD GEORGE'S APPEAL TO AMERICA:

"We are at the crisis of the war, attacked by an immense superiority of German troops. Our army has been forced to retire. The retirement has been carried out methodically before the pressure of a steady succession of fresh German reserves, which are suffering enormous losses. The situation is being faced with splendid courage and resolution. The dogged pluck of our troops has for the moment checked the ceaseless onrush of the enemy, and the French have now joined in the struggle. But this battle, the greatest and most momentous in the history of the world, is only just beginning. Throughout it the French and British are buoyed with the knowledge that the great Republic of the west will neglect no effort which can hasten its troops and its ships to France.

In war, time is vital. It is impossible to exaggerate the importance of getting American reinforcements across the Atlantic in the shortest possible space of time.

make them help share them. They have spoken, and their voice has been in approval of our efforts to give the city bridges on two of its principal avenues into the city that will be a credit to the entire community.
"The Register followed a faithful, consistent course, without favor or prejudice, and was of material assistance in placing the matter intelligently before our people."

Women the Power
"I want to give the women credit for the success of the bonds," said City Councilman McPhee. "They are alive to the interests of the city and are progressive in every sense. They should take this as a precedent of what they can do. The women can get any kind of a government they want. They have the government of the city practically in their own hands. It is now a case of where the hand that rocks the cradle also controls the city government."

"I think the city has taken one of the greatest steps forward it has made in years. The cost involved doesn't cut any figure as compared with the benefits derived from the erection of two good approaches to the city. Santa Ana is a city of beautiful buildings and fine streets and we couldn't afford to do without the bridges."

"I have believed ever since the bridge question has been up that the voters would back the council in its plan to provide the city with a respectable bridge on the main artery into the city and in the erection of a structure at Flower street for the convenience of traffic coming into the city from the section to the northwest."
"I want to give City Water Superintendent Reid and Col. S. H. Finley due credit for what they did in behalf of the issues. They did a great deal of detail work and their efforts materially assisted in bringing the results obtained. The Register had an important part in the campaign and I want to compliment the management on the fair and unprejudiced manner in which it presented the facts in educating the public to the importance and necessity of the bridges."

High Minimum Price Guaranteed For Sugar Beets

Our 1918 contract provides payment for beets based on price received for the sugar, but guarantees that such payment will be not less than though the sugar, (which will not all be sold until about August 1st, 1919) brings 7½c per pound. This means a minimum price of $7.50 per ton for beets testing 15% sugar, plus 50c additional for each 1% sugar above 15%, or $9.50 per ton for beets testing 19%, which is a little under the average test of beets produced around Santa Ana. (The last 10-year average throughout Southern California was 18.9234%). We assume all risk of sugar bringing less than 7½c but the beet grower gets still higher prices if sugar brings more than that price.

The guaranteed price for 19% beets under previous contracts was $5.70. A comparison between the minimum returns per acre for 19% beets under such previous contracts, and under our 1918 contract, appears below:

Previous years' Contracts	Returns per acre
	1918 Minimum Returns	Increase Per Acre
Crop of 8 tons per acre	$ 45.60	$ 30.40
" " 9 " " "	51.30	34.20
" " 10 " " "	57.00	38.00
" " 11 " " "	62.70	41.80
" " 12 " " "	68.40	45.60
" " 13 " " "	74.10	49.40
" " 14 " " "	79.80	53.20
" " 15 " " "	85.50	57.00
" " 16 " " "	91.20	60.80
" " 17 " " "	96.90	64.60
" " 18 " " "	102.60	68.40
" " 19 " " "	108.30	72.20
" " 20 " " "	114.00	76.00

In other words, the 1918 contract guarantees the grower as much for 9 tons of beets as he was formerly guaranteed for 15 tons. The increase almost equal the operating cost of growing an average crop, and exceeds such cost on some of the higher tonnages.

The price to be received for practically all other crops is entirely speculative, but under this contract the grower only speculates as to whether or not his crop will bring more than the established high minimum price.

ORANGE GIRL IS INJURED BY AUTOIST

ORANGE, April 15.—Cleo Pearson, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pearson of Garden Grove, was seriously hurt in an accident on West Chapman avenue Saturday morning when she was struck by an automobile driven by J. C. Phillipson of this city.

The Pearson family was with a party of Alamitos people on their way to the county park for a picnic. They were coming east on Chapman between the bridge and Main street when a hat blew out of the machine. The little girl got out to recover it. Several machines were coming from behind and one of them passed her car and stopped ahead.

According to Mr. Phillipson, who was driving west on Chapman and could not see the girl, she stepped out from behind the other car in front of him. He swerved to one side as quickly as possible and only the side of the rear fender struck her. She was thrown aside, unconscious.

Phillipson stopped and accompanied the injured girl to a physician's office here. She was bruised and shaken and was bleeding from one ear, but no fractures could be discovered. It is possible that internal injuries may have been received. At present her condition is doubtful.

Phillipson, a local insurance man, drives an Oakland roadster. He states that he was travelling slowly or the girl would have been killed. He could not see her until she stepped in front of him.

Why We Are at War With Germany

By
EPHRAIM DOUGLASS ADAMS
Executive Head, History Department Leland Stanford Junior University.

"The object of this war is to deliver the free peoples of the world from the menace and the actual power of a vast military establishment controlled by an irresponsible government, which, having secretly planned to dominate the world, proceeded to carry out the plan without regard either to the sacred obligations of treaty or the long-established practices and long-cherished principles of international action and honor. . . . This power is not the German people. It is the ruthless master of the German people. . . . It is our business to see to it that the history of the rest of the world is no longer left to its handling."—President Wilson, August 27, 1917.

THIS WAR IS ONE OF SELF-PRESERVATION

"Here," says Everyman, "was a Kaiserdom seeking world domination—and perilously near encompassing it—unless the world united to repel him." Thus the radical land reformer sees the issue. Is there any one still blind to it?

But were we in America directly threatened? We were, and we are threatened. A German book published in the United States in 1914, and called "Truth About Germany," sought to inflame us against England and France, and to persuade us that America and Germany had common ideals, characteristics, and methods. (May God save us!) It argued smoothly: "Two nations united by such common inclinations and ideals, boldness of enterprise, far-sightedness, quickness of decision, admiration for intellectual achievements, can not help being exceedingly congenial to each other." Pleasant words—but a lying tongue. Would Germany, once master of Europe, remember our "congeniality," and be a good neighbor in the Americas?

The Germans when writing for home consumption hold a different language about world relations and "neighbors." "Formerly German thought was shut up in her German corner, but now the world shall have its coat cut according to German measure, and as far as our sword's flash and German blood flows, the circle of the earth shall come under the tutelage of German activity."

HOHENZOLLERN MERCY!

How great is German Kultur—a so-called Kultur forced upon an unwilling world—backed by wanton steel, by men who know no law or honor. A Kultur, mind you, that stables horses in cathedral sanctuaries, that enslaves defenseless people, that violates every decency on which civilization is founded, that ravishes women and children and that stands white-haired men against their homestead walls to face the firing squad!

What have YOU done to stem the onward tide of the Hun—to stamp out the barbarous cruelties and vicious greed of autocracy—to preserve for your children and their children the peace and freedom and democracy for which our flag stands?

Remember the War Lord's boast: "Paris, then London, then America."

Picture the German torch given to our dwellings, the helmeted sons of hell tramping our city streets, the screams of our children, the unspeakable fate of our wives and sisters!

Unless our response to the Third Liberty Loan is of matchless generosity—unless we lend the Government our ammunition-dollars—America will be face to face with the greatest calamity in her history.

"THE Prussian atrocities are real. The highly temperate, thoughtful suggestions that we hear in this country, counseling hesitancy to accept exaggerated report, are simply the products of German propaganda.

"I have seen dead Canadians crucified against dugout doors—seen them with my own eyes. Whether the men were dead or alive when they were impaled through the wrists and ankles with bayonets is not an important question. The act was one of barbarism, intended and expected to terrify the comrades of the crucified men, according to the theories of German frightfulness. And I have only recently seen a man—a returned prisoner—who was unspeakably mutilated at the order of a Prussian lieutenant because he refused to give information about the condition and position of his regiment. This case is one which so recently and remarkably came to my notice that I take occasion to give details concerning it. The prisoner said to his captors that he would tell only what the rules of civilized warfare required him to tell—his name, number, rank and religion. After threatening him with appropriate punishment if he still refused, the officer who was questioning him gave an order to the soldiers who had him in charge. They took him to the rear and without question or comment, tied him to a post and mutilated him in a manner which I cannot describe except to say that the average man, without taking into consideration the mere physical agony, would have preferred death. . . .

"Our people must awaken to the realization that this is not a civilized war and that we are fighting a nation of the highest civilization which decided, long ago, that this should not be a civilized war. The disposition of the Anglo-Saxon races to take a sporting and chivalrous attitude toward their enemies of warfare. Plans to take advantage of it were eagerly and scientifically arranged. The use of poison gas, the dissemination of disease germs, the bombardment of unfortified cities, the despoliation of the young women of captured territory, the sinking of unarmed passenger vessels, were all details of a deliberate preparation for 'frightfulness', and the utmost care was taken to keep the murderous planning secret, so that its effect might not be lessened by anticipation of it. The Prussian manner of thought and the conception which the Prussian has of warfare make it impossible for us to treat him as a Christian and civilized opponent."

—Lieutenant Alexander McClintock in the April Delineator.

NEW M. E. CHURCH FOR ANAHEIM ASSURED

ANAHEIM, April 15.—A new Methodist church, such as will be in keeping with the progress of the town, and will place this community on a par with any similar community in the state in this matter, is now assured.

At the meeting held Friday night the plans and perspective drawings were shown on the screen, picturing the completed church, and the Sunday school portion which it is proposed to build at this time. It was brought out that the cost of the completed structure would be in the neighborhood of $45,000, while the present project for the Sunday school portion would cost about $23,000.

After the presentation of the plans, Mr. Eysabroad, the chairman of the committee on subscription, made his report, showing that the $15,000 mark set at the beginning had been passed and asking the consent of the subscribers to go on with the work since the revised estimate was at least $5,000 more than first mentioned. Several subscribers immediately volunteered to increase their subscriptions and after discussion the vote was passed and permission given.

The committee on location then reported on several sites on Broadway and were empowered to conclude negotiations on the most favorable conditions obtainable on any of the sites proposed.

The real climax of the meeting came when Mr. Eysabroad announced that two ladies of the church, Mrs. Wagner and Mrs. Charles Eysabroad, would give as their donation to the new church a splendid pipe organ, installed complete under a cent of cost to the church. This splendid exhibition of generosity was received with hearty applause. The plan adopted provided for a pipe organ loft, and when the organ is installed this section can be removed entirely to its new position when the complete structure is to be erected.

PLAYED VIOLIN WHEN AGED THREE

Remarkable in many ways is the Anderson company which presents one of the finest of the Chautauque programs. Their chief claim to distinction rests on the fact that they seem to please every person in their large audiences wherever they go.

They have the happy faculty of rendering a delightful program in an artistic manner which win the plaudits of every crowd.

Eve Anderson first played the violin when she was but three, and at half years old at that time being able to play "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" in a manner quite remarkable for a child of that age. She played in her home town's orchestra until she finished school and then she took up music under some of the best known artists. Her playing is creating a revelation wherever she goes. Miss Edna Means and Miss Hilda Brady join Miss Anderson in presenting their program which is varied and sparkling.

The same enthusiasm which she displayed in her childhood play, when she broke her ankle playing "Dare," cracked two ribs playing basketball, broke her wrist trying to ride a frisky horse, and had numerous close escapes in automobile accidents and two runaways. Miss Edna Means is displaying in her very successful efforts to please her Chautauque audiences. Without exception, the comments which were received last season by the Redpath-Horner Lyceum Bureau concerning the work of Edna Means were more enthusiastic and commendatory than the remarks concerning any other one artist on road. A genuine treat awaits Chautauque patrons when Edna Means comes to the city.

SAMMIES TEACH CHEFS HOW TO PREPARE FOOD

Herman Reuter, In France, Gives Enjoyable Dissertation on "Eats," Snores and Mustaches, As Well As the Joy That Came With the Arrival of Packages From Santa Ana.

Writing in his own delightful way, Herman Reuter has sent to a friend in Santa Ana a description of some of the things he has noticed since he has arrived in France. Last August, Reuter, who was telegraph operator and reporter upon the Register staff, entered the ordnance department of the United States army. He and his brother Ernest, sons of Mrs. L. Reuter of Grand avenue, have been in France since about November 1.

In his letter, received yesterday, he says that he has just received the Christmas box mailed by the Santa Ana Christmas Box Committee about November 15. It took the box four months to reach its destination.

Extracts from Reuter's letter follow:

"Somewhere in France,"
March 13, 1918.

Getting Register
As to the Registers, you undoubtedly know by this time that I have been receiving copies for about a month now. It surely filled a vacancy in my existence to get my hands on the old sheet once again.

I have been intending for weeks to write you, but somehow, what with the exceeding scarcity of news and more or less work here in the office, I failed to get around to it. When I say scarcity of news I mean what I say, for, truly, it is something appalling. Of course, I could come across with some real hot stuff once in a while, if I were so unpatriotic and hair-brained as to run counter to the intentions of the censorship regulations.

Even the stuff that is worth while, but is barred by the regulations, is comparatively rare. Life here runs along with a phlegmatic calm from day to day, with never a ripple threatening its way across the surface of the waters to break the monotony. Oh, of course, there is a suspicion of a ripple once in a while, but comparatively only a suspicion, you might say—as when letters come from home, like yours yesterday and today, and when a package comes, like one I received from the Santa Ana Chamber to Commerce, also today.

Gets Package
Someone connected with sending that highly appreciated package had the extremely commendable foresight to enclose 100 Murad cigarettes. Should you learn the identity of that person kindly tender him my sincerest thanks; and to the Chamber of Commerce (though I shall write that body an official letter) convey also my thanks.

I have now received remembrances from three unheralded sources, namely, the Chamber of Commerce, the Northside Auxiliary of the Santa Ana Red Cross, and Dr. Cushman—but not a single package which I had been notified had been sent me, among them the one from the Register force. From all this stress I lay on packages, don't get the idea that I am grasping in my old age, for I am not. It's merely my way of expressing my appreciation of the thoughtfulness of all you people back home, and to call attention (for the nth time!) to the legitimacy of the A. E. F. man's kick against the postal service. Though, before dropping the subject, I must say that I remember always that this is war time, and we ought to consider ourselves fortunate to have a mail system of any sort!

Reforming Cafes
Of course, there are various little more or less interesting sidelights and aspects that crop up occasionally. For instance, the coming of the American has wrought something of a revolution in the culinary line in certain French towns, those towns, more particularly, where the Yanks have been quartered. The native astonishment at the unbounded appetite of Uncle Sam's fighting man has not worn off even after these long months, it is quite plain to be seen. The question will arise, doesn't Uncle Sam take care that his troops are fed, and well fed? The answer is, yes, emphatically.

But Uncle Sam provides plain, substantial food, with few "extras" and "trimmings"—such as fried eggs and "French fried," and it is exactly such like provender that the exquisite and connoisseurish taste of the Sammy demands. Hence, he makes as many trips to his favorite cafe as his pocketbook will allow. And that is where the revolution comes in.

In the first place, Pershing's men insist on being given service. Not only must they be fed instantly, but meals must be brought in en masse—the course dinner has no attraction for them.

Now, that is exactly the opposite of the Gaul's idea about eating. The Frenchman likes to dally with his victuals. He, in case he does ever make so unheard of a plunge as to indulge in a meal of such proportions as the American invariably essays, likes to intersperse conversation with manipulations of the eating tools. He starts out with his soup. This finished, there ensues a hiatus of anywhere from five to ten minutes, during which the next round is being prepared in the mysterious precincts to the rear of the establishment. The second consignment consumed, there follows another wait, and so on.

Lord it in Kitchens
The man from across seas can't see this. It takes him but a short time to initiate cooks and waiters into the gentle art of hustling the hash in true American style.

It is really quite entertaining, this habit the Americans have of assuming command of the smaller cafes. No portion of the establishment is safe from a visit by him. He sails into the kitchen and absolutely lords it over the sweating and muchly harassed kitchen mechanics.

He can speak only enough French, generally, to order what he wants, yet by dint of elaborate calisthenics he makes his hands and arms talk for him, with the result that the French "get" him in nearly all cases.

The French, a philosophic people, are familiar with the old phrase, "when in Rome," etc., and so they, in many cases, adapt their tactics to those demanded by their new friends of the capacious appetites, with the result that now in many of the cafes in the smaller towns it is possible to get service somewhat after the American fashion. Not only are the French philosophic but they are also shrewd, as witness, in many cases, cafe announcements lettered in English, evidently prepared under the capable direction of eager Sammies.

Has Heard 'em All
The time has come to talk of snoring, mustaches and other things. Of snoring, I have had ample opportunity since enlisting, to hear some awe-inspiring, not to say awful, samples.

Of course, I myself, do not snore, for I have never caught myself at it. But, having been quartered at various and sundry times with more or less large quotas of fellow soldiers, I can state that there are some men in our army who could easily qualify for entering the finals in any short and long distance snoring competition extant.

I have made quite a study of snores. There is for instance the retiring, bashful snore, the snore that apologizes, as it were, for being, yet which is somehow unmistakable, penetrating, insistent, like fantastic echoes of far-off shrieks emitted by souls on the rack, or something to that effect. We have the gurgling snore, the liquid snore, the whistling snore, the snore that appears to have the qualities of having been premeditated, the snore that arouses the desire to slay, the snore that sounds like the last gasp of one about to pass in his checks—but never the soothing snore, never the snore that is conducive to calm and quiet.

The Mustache
As regards mustaches, not a little is to be learned over here. Just as the Gaul is known by his hirsute decorations, so the American is known by the absence of them. For every "poilu" (which, as everyone knows, means a hairy person) has spinach on his face, of some sort or other, while the American, after he spends a month or two in experimenting with facial camouflage, generally reverts to the unsmirched style of physiognomy.

The American, on first landing in France, is much like a young colt turned loose in an unaccustomed pasture. But after a short while he gets into his stride, becomes blasé, and the soon loses his passing predilection for indulgences made possible through distance from the curbing influences of the home folks.

It may safely be said that, generally, you can tell how long a man has been in France by the condition of his face. If it be sprouting with a growth, no matter how downy or how unbending, then he is among the newcomers. If, however, it be innocent of verdure, then you may gamble on it that the owner of the phiz is already among the veterans. Still, there are some possessed of so much vanity that they persist in the pastime of mustache farming. These few are the exceptions that prove the rule.

All Walks of Life

It has been said, you know, that we are fighting the fight of democracy. Well, if the type of men one runs across over here is any criterion, we are certainly making good the claim, from the ground up. The personnel of the army over here so far comes from every walk of life. The number of college men is remarkable. Then, one finds lawyers, accountants, salesmen, and other innumerable professions and trades represented.

"Save Animal Fats. Use Vegetable Fat. Substitution will do more for food conservation than the strictest economy."

U. S. Food Administration

YOU have probably been told of the world's shortage in fats—animal fats particularly. Has the force of this condition come home to you?

Our fighting men need fats for their energy. Our Government needs fats for munitions. Millions of devitalized women and children abroad need fats for life itself—does this appeal fall on deaf ears?

Does so much as an ounce of lard or butter steal its way into your cooking? If so, there is not the slightest necessity or excuse for it.

Do you realize that this country produces vast quantities of pure, nutritious cooking fats derived from vegetable sources?

From these fats we make Cottolene.

When you use vegetable fats in place of lard and butter, you are doing a patriotic duty. You are sacrificing nothing in wholesomeness, economy and good eating. You are simply making an easy change in the way you cook—for your own good and the good of your country.

"Every pound of vegetable fat used in place of butter or lard is as sure of service as a bullet."

Get on the firing line in your own kitchen today with Cottolene.
